Essay.

Should students have a long summer holidays or should terms be longer?

I think, that everything is good right now. We don't have to change amount of time, because it is enough. Enough for study and enough to relax.

Of course, more study time is better for learning, but we have to keep in mind, that students and teachers can also be tired. People can't take and keep information for a very long time, so they just need some time to clean their mind and relax. For example, on holidays, you can go for a long walk in a park to breathe fresh air and think about something far from school and studying. Some one can just play computer games with his friends or do it, it can make you happy. Also, you can fly somewhere to see new places, new people, new cultures. I prefer playing computer games and walking with my friends. Together we can go somewhere, speak on different themes and we can also learn something new and discuss this knowledge together.

By my opinion, it doesn't really matter how much free time you have if you can't manage it. Person have to do what he want to do and use whole his time to relax. But when it's time to start studying, you have to be ready to learn a lot of new things.
